

Desert Turf Club Starts Race Track Construction

rendering of the completed racing plant. Scheduled for early construction so that racing can be held the end of this year, are the grandstands, paddock, track and parking area. Clubhouse building may be delayed until next year. The small buildings that can be seen on top of the grandstands are for newspapers, radio and television personnel. (Desert Sun Photo—Rendering by Gayle).

75 Attend Turf Club Ceremony

Plans for Racing By October Told By Club Officials

Groundbreaking ceremony for the new $1,000,000 Desert Turf Club Quarterhorse Race Track at Rancho Mirage was held yesterday at noon as 75 desert area officials and pioneers gathered to watch bulldozers break into the sand dunes to transform the barren desert into a luxury race track and show place.

H. L. (Hank) Gogerty, vice president of Desert Turf Club, announced at a luncheon at the Desert Air Hotel, following the groundbreaking ceremonies, that pending final approval by the California Horse Racing Commission, quarterhorse racing will be held the last of November and the first part of December.

A COMBINED statement by Frank Bogert, Turf Club president, and Gogerty, said that the track would have a seating capacity of 3,500, and room for 10,000 to stand in front. The track will be one mile oval, with a straight stretch for quarterhorse racing.

The parking lot, which will easily take care of between 2,500 and 3,000 automobiles, will be accessible from Rio Del Sol Road and Avenue 38 and Avenue 40.

THE BOARD of Directors of Desert Turf Club also have plans for the use of the track site during the winter months after the specified racing dates are completed. Among the proposals for the track use will be training of quarterhorses and thoroughbreds, as well as polo ponies.

The center of the track will be developed for one and possibly two polo fields. On the track site will be stables which will house 400 horses.

Gogerty pointed out that he hoped that the site would become the center of activities such as flower shows, horse shows, public meetings and rallies, and under the grandstands will be rooms that can be used for art galleries and meeting rooms.

BERMUDA SHORTS day is every Friday at Palm Springs High School, starting today (above), when all students who care to wear them have permission to do so. The student council discussed the matter with the school administration for several months before a decision was made allowing the controversial issue. In wearing the shorts, students must wear knee-length Bermuda socks. In the same official revision of dress regulations, the students and the administration have asked that after September of this year, girls will not wear pedal pushers or Toreador pants. (Sun Photo).

Beck Surrenders on Tax Charge, Posts $5,000 Bail

WASHINGTON — Teamsters President Dave Beck surrendered voluntarily to the United States Marshall today and posted a $5,000 bond on federal income tax evasion charges.

Beck was indicted Thursday in Tacoma on charges of evading payment of $56,420 due in federal taxes for 1950.

BECK AND HIS attorney, Gerard Treanor of Washington, appeared briefly before Federal District Judge Edward M. Curran here this morning. Then they went to the clerk's office, where Treanor posted a cashier's check from the American Security and Trust Co.

The bond is for Beck's appearance either here or in Tacoma. Curran set the bond in place of U. S. Commissioner James F. Splain who is ill.

House Refuses Flood Insurance

WASHINGTON — The House Appropriations Committee today turned down President Eisenhower's request for 50 million dollars to finance a new federal flood insurance program.

The committee, in a report to the House, said plans for the program were "too indefinite and costly." It recommended that the flood indemnity administration take $325,000 it now has and use it to develop a "more workable" plan.

Benson Critics Attack Policy

WASHINGTON — Democratic critics attacked Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson today for his blast at the present farm price support program.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender of the Senate Agriculture Committee accused Benson of trying to set himself up as an "agricultural czar."

IN ANSWER to reporters' questions as to what was going on, Beck said:

"I wouldn't say one word about it because I don't know no more about it than you do now."

Beck was fingerprinted and otherwise processed in the marshal's office before his court appearance.

McCarthy Services To be Held Monday

WASHINGTON — Funeral services for Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, unexpectedly dead at 47, will be held Monday, probably in the Senate Chamber where he rose to fame and, later, was formally condemned by his colleagues.

The Wisconsin Republican died at Bethesda Naval Hospital late Thursday of a little-understood liver malady called "acute hepatitis." The specific cause of death was "acute hepatic failure," failure of the liver to go on functioning.

SENATE LEADERS conferred with Mrs. McCarthy who indicated a desire that funeral services be held in the Senate itself, at 7 a.m. (P.S.T.) Monday. Burial will be in the McCarthy family plot at Appleton, Wis., probably Tuesday.

Rush Troops To Border Key Points

Fighting Spreads With Troops, Planes in Action

MANAGUA, Nicaragua — Nicaragua and Honduras shifted to wartime footings today and rushed troops to key points in their common border.

There was no formal declaration of war by either country. But the situation was becoming more critical by the moment despite pleas by the Organization of American States and the U. S. Government for a ceasefire pending a peaceful settlement of the centuries-old border dispute.

THE OAS WAS forming a five-nation committee to rush to Central America on a fact-finding mission.

Reports from Tegucigalpa, Honduras, said the fighting had spread from Mocoron in the disputed territory near the Caribbean coast to Las Manas, a western border post about 80 miles from the Pacific Ocean.

INFORMED SOURCES here said some 20,000 Nicaraguan troops were converging on the border, supported by naval and air forces.

Nicaraguan armed forces chief Gen. Anastasio Somoza announced Thursday night that his troops recaptured Mocoron Thursday, less than 18 hours after Honduran forces took it from a Nicaraguan patrol.

Informed sources said three Honduran P38s were shot down in the battle, but no casualty list was announced.

Willard Prices Leave to Gather Data For Articles on Mississippi River

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Price of Cathedral City left May 1 for the Mississippi Valley.

Mr. Price, well known author on travel and adventure, has an assignment from National Geographic Magazine to do two articles on "Old Man River," one from the source in northern Minnesota to Cairo, Ill., and the other from Cairo to the Gulf of Mexico.

The Prices will travel the length of the river by boat and car and are taking their trailer and canoe. They will try to experience all kinds of river transportation, from the luxurious Delta Queen to towboats and shanty boats.

They hope to ride with the U. S. Engineers, who keep the channel under control, and the pilots who convey huge ocean liners through the intricate passes into the Gulf.

Last summer Mr. Price covered the Thames River in England for National Geographic and his article on that river will appear in the magazine sometime during 1958.

Maher Features Special Items In Baby Week

There's one smart merchant in town who remembers when national observances take place and does something about it. He is Dick Maher of Maher's Furniture Store located at 102 North Indian Avenue at the corner of Tahquitz Drive.

Dick Maher piled his place full of all those things that parents should have handy for babies during National Baby Week.

Now he warned that parents should not rush down and start browsing around for milk bottles and nipples, but he has most everything that a child should have in the way of furniture.

He has on special sale or at give-away prices such items as the newest strollers, snuggle-bug collapsible car-beds, or combination swing and car bed. There are also hundreds of styles in baby cribs.

NPS Troop 78 Wins Top Honor

North Palm Springs Boy Scout Troop No. 78 won the top honors in the Riverside County Palm Springs District Camporee, receiving the coveted "A" rating and the top scoutmanship award.

Planning Commission Continues Corner Law Hearing

The Palm Springs Planning Commission has continued until May 15 an appeal by the Palm Springs Safety Council to amend a city ordinance which will regulate the height of walls, fences and plantings on street corners in the city.

Don Miller, president of the local Safety Council, appeared before the Commission with a line of witnesses, each substantiating with photographic and statistical evidence, the need for controlling legislation.

THE BACKERS of the amended bill showed that Palm Springs had 52 accidents last year, and pointed out that 23 of these were at blind corners.

The Safety Council is very concerned about the situation," said Miller, "and we know that unless something is done about it, the situation will get worse."

DON WEXLER, member of the council, told the commission that he had cost estimates for removing walls and planted area, and showed the Commission pictures of some of the worse examples.

George Bond, supervisor for safety for the school district, showed the Commission a map indicating the "bad" corners in Palm Springs which are along the school bus routes.

The map indicated that in 34 miles of bus routes within the city limits, there were 103 blind corners, and 39 of these were walls.

Mercury to Pass Between Earth And Sun Sunday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The planet Mercury will pass between the Earth and the sun Sunday, but don't look at it through a telescope.

Astronomers at Morrison Planetarium said the event, known as the transit of Mercury, will take place between 5:07 p. m. and 7:19 p. m.

The passage can be seen only by using a telescope. However, astronomers warned against looking at the sun through a telescope or binoculars. Instant and permanent blindness may be the result.

Instead, they said to turn the telescope toward the sun and then hold a piece of white paper about 12 inches behind the eyepiece. The eyepiece will project an enlarged image of the sun on the paper and Mercury will be seen as a little black dot.

Desert Area Growth in Past Five Years, 1,822 Homes, Trend of Future

Palm Springs resort area builders today proudly looked back upon the last half-decade as a period marked by the greatest building splurge ever noted in the record books of Riverside County's plush, unincorporated desert country.

Viewing the past five years as an easily interpreted indication of bigger things yet to come, county building officials today reported that far-sighted builders have invested $19,698,196 here from Oct. 1, 1956, to March 31, 1957.

MOST OF THE area construction was devoted to new homes as new families by the hundreds moved into the comfortable, year-round cycle of desert living.

In the unincorporated area of the Palm Springs Unified School District, the county issued 3,444 building permits, including 1,822 permits for single and multiple dwellings units valued at $15,269,923.

VIEWED AS A portion of resort area progress, the figures reflected a picture of mushrooming development stretching from the center of Desert Hot Springs, through the carefully-manicured greens of Thunderbird to the tree-studded subdivisions of Thousand Palms.

Springing up with the alacrity of desert wild flowers popping from the ground after spring rains, subdivisions styled for luxury and working class families have filled out acres of vacant desert land at lush Bermuda Dunes and rapidly-developing Indian Wells.

Fair Exchange
SALT LAKE CITY—Manufacturers of a lawn and garden fertilizer were more complimented than angered when, during an annual garden show display here, someone made off with a large bag of the product; left two equal-sized bags of a competitor's fertilizer in payment.

BUSINESS DEALS THAT sometimes go awry will without a doubt result with somebody stepping through the door of a $75,000 home at a cost far below that figure. Tony Burke, Inc., this week announced that he has been given exclusive sales rights to a five bedroom, five bath house, completely furnished with every modern convenience in kitchen, bathrooms, inter-com system, swimming pool, completely fenced in against the very young and with the estate sized lot on which it is sitting completely walled in. Burke said the house is located at 1133 Pasatiempo just off Paseo El Mirador in the comparatively new home district of El Mirador Park. The sales price has been placed at $53,000 unfurnished, but with drapes and carpeting from wall to wall in each room. Furnished it is being offered at $58,000. "The kitchen," Burke said, "is furnished with every labor saving device known and in use today. One of the features of the house is the rumpus room decorated in a South Sea Island motif. Each of the guest rooms leads right out into the swimming pool area." Burke did not say so, but he intimated that this home must be sold and right now. (Desert Sun Photo).

School Growth, 1,100 in 6 Years, Is Area Trend

Always an accurate barometer for measuring area population growth, Palm Springs school enrollment today reflects a steady upsurge of population unequalled in desert area history.

Since 1951, enrollment in the Palm Springs Unified School District has charted an upward course at a rate of speed almost unmatched by district planning machinery.

NOW IN THE final stages of a $2,125,000 school building bond issue, the school district is viewing future plans as incoming students fill the new units as fast as they are readied for occupancy.

A BREAKDOWN of enrollment figures rendered the following graph of desert growth:
1952—High School, 398; Elementary, 1,238; Total, 1,636.
1953—High School, 389; Elementary, 1,358; Total, 1,747.
1954—High School, 411; Elementary, 1,424; Total, 1,835.
1955—High School, 473; Elementary, 1,589; Total, 2,062.
1956—High School, 546; Elementary, 1,833; Total, 2,379.
1957—High School, 656; Elementary, 2,070; Total, 2,726.

Most City Roads Are Improved

Statistics show that Palm Springs roads cover much more area than they seem to, according to official records kept by the Director of Public Works, Frank Hamerschlag.

The city street system is composed of a total of 130.63 miles of roads, covering more than 36 square miles of incorporated area.

Of these miles of roads, 8.84 miles are state highways through the city.

The tabulation of roads within the city limits was taken in October, 1956.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Mostly Labor

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Thoughts about town: Senator Morse made a long personal-privilege speech in the Senate just before Easter, protesting a little too much his innocence of association with the Teamsters.

He could have had in mind an expensive color-print campaign pamphlet which the Western Conference of Teamsters put out for him last autumn. The pamphlet was entitled, "Morse Speaks Out," and was authorized over the signature of Frank Brewster. Morse went to unusual lengths to anticipate questions which might be asked him while home for the Easter vacation.

HE WANTED it understood, he said, that he was not ashamed of the Teamsters dollars which helped elect him and that last November he had the same Labor support which he'd had in 1946 and 1952 when he ran as a Republican. Everybody knows Morse is an outspoken and financially honest man, but if it turns out that Labor contributed illegally or unethically to the Morse campaign, it will hurt Morse and the Democrats as much as Labor.

Sparking of politics in the Labor movement, whom and what is the 85th Congress 'D' going to investigate after the Teamsters and Building Trades, whose leaders are Dave Beck (R) and Dick Gray (R). Nobody really believes that Beck and Gray are ideological Republicans in the sense that Walter Reuther and Dave McDonald are bred-in-the-bone Demo-Laborites.

LABOR-MINDED people think that Beck and Gray went with Candidate Eisenhower because he looked like a sure winner. Only three other labor leaders—M. A. Hutcheson of the Carpenters, the late Harry Lundberg of the Seafarers and Guy Brown of the Locomotive Engineers—were Ike-backers.

On the other hand, the AFL-CIO leadership (with Beck's lone dissenting vote) endorsed Adlai Stevenson. The Democratic National Committee had a Labor Advisory Council with 54 union leaders, and Reuther is vice president and prime mover of Americans for Democratic Action—a Democratic party adjunct. It all raises the question: Is the Congress (D) going to investigate some of these other Labor (D) leaders?

AND WHAT OF Beck's tactics? Is he still trying to hide under the Eisenhower coat-tails. What about Beck's association with former Republican National Committee member, Leonard Hall? What about Beck's use of former Ike-backing Senator Duff (R) as his over-publicized legal counsel? What about Beck's choice of the Charnay public relations firm, and this firm's raid on the payroll roster of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, from which a couple of clever writers have been tempted to resign.

If Beck can make it look like a political fight, he himself will look like the victim of political persecution. And where is Reuther all this while? He stands to gain Labor prestige by the knocking of other Labor Leaders, especially if they are Republicans. He stands to gain membership for his United Auto Workers if the Teamsters Union is disgraced. He is winning a big victory over other Labor groups with the help of the Democratic Party in Congress. If this doesn't help Reuther, and if it doesn't help Democratic candidates in 1958 and '60, a lot of political onlookers will be surprised.

AND WHEN IS THE probe of Labor racketeering going to lead to the big cities? So far it's been Portland, Ore., and Scranton, Penn. But why not New York and Chicago, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, where the Democrats run the political machines? It's true that Beck and the Teamsters, and the building trades unions are corrupt and deserving of primary attention. But unless, and until, some of the Democratic Labor leaders come before the committee, the investigation is going to look suspiciously political.

The most probable result of the Labor probe? Insiders say that legislation, if any, will be for the protection of the individual union member. So far, all the member does is pay his ever-increasing dues. Aside from public responsibility for Labor welfare funds and for honest union elections, Congress wants to give the working man some sort of membership freedom to (a) decline to join a union or (b) to quit a union without losing a job.

THE QUESTION IS: Should there be a Federal right-to-work law? Politicians are divided. Laborites won't hear of such a thing. Labor-haters want the union shop outlawed like the closed shop. States Righters are hopeful that more State legislatures will follow the example of the 18 which have already passed right-to-work laws.

If this does not take place, there will be strong pressure in Congress to Federalize the freedom to work. But the pressure is hardly strong enough. States Righters do not want to give the Federal Government any more power, even for a good purpose.

They feel that way about Federal legislation to keep signboards off the new highways. They feel even more strongly that Labor-Management relationships begin at the plant level and should never go higher than the level of State authority.

It's hard to get busy

This time of the year

When all I can think of:

Vacation is near.

It's really rough to try to concentrate on the business at hand, which right now consists of thinking up about 600 words to set down on this old typewriter in orderly sequence when, in my imagination, I can hear the singing rails, the subdued chatter in the press box of some major league ball park.

That's the life — it won't be long now.

WRITING ABOUT travel reminds me of a conversation I heard the other day at the Dunes.

A customer was complaining to Pat Stambaugh who takes care of allaying the drouth of all and sundry, that prices were too high in the West.

"Why, back in Brooklyn where I live I can see a first run movie for 60 cents. Out here they want a buck or more in some places," said the man.

"Sure," soothed Pat. "But think of what it would cost you to drive back there to save 40 cents."

THAT WAS an interesting report issued by Police Chief A. G. Kettmann the other day on the decrease in traffic accidents here.

In March, he said, injury accidents dropped 60 per cent under March last year and non-injury accidents 15 per cent.

Significant in the report were the figures on citations. In March this year, 516 were issued, in March last year, 400. Maybe that's why there were fewer accidents. More people found out they couldn't get away with it.

THE CHIEF also praised the Palm Springs Safety Council for its part in reducing the local accident toll.

Their campaign of education is paying off. They are making motorists safety-conscious and that is what it takes.

Another big aid to traffic safety is the current campaign to eliminate blind corners. If you don't know what's coming you probably won't know what hit you.

THIS WEEK is Boys' Week, the 35th annual observance of the special period. Since a nation's greatest asset is its youth, special recognition is being given boys' activities all over the nation. So far I haven't been able to find out what's being done here.

Outside of the unselfish efforts of a great gang of Villagers who are putting the 1957 Little League campaign in motion.

PARENTS and all others interested in youth should get back to the Little League movement. It takes care of kids from 8 to 12 and gives them wholesome activity during the summer months. The Pony League, (13-14) and the Colts, (15-16) also deserve your support.

The list is long of Villagers who are giving of their time—and cash, too—to provide recreation and fun for boys from 8 to 16. That's when they need it.

You can support 'em by watching them play at the Polo Grounds.

INEZ ROBB:

Passed the Buck

Three weeks ago, when the Dave Beck-Teamsters Union mess was first aired in Washington, D. C., I opened my big, fat typewriter and opined that "only a revolution sparked by red rage and indignation within the union rank and file" would lead to union reform and rectitude.

I expected an onslaught of angry letters, telling me to take a running jump into the lake minus water wings. Well, there has been a deluge of angry letters but not quite in the vein I had anticipated. The rank and file of Teamsters is mad as hops, not so much at me as at union officials.

The union writers, all of whom had the courage to sign their names, addresses and the numbers of their respective locals, are angry with me—and deservedly. I fear—in the light of further Senate revelations, mainly because I did not realize the dangers and difficulties of a revolt to the rank-and-file.

THE FIRST LETTER that brought me up short, and was later echoed in many others, said in part, "The naïveté of your column on the Teamsters Union verges on ignorance of unionism and its bosses. Show me a man, not today but a year ago or even two months ago (when circumstances were different than now), who would lead his fellow Teamsters to clean up this mess and I will show you a dead man."

"A reformer in the Teamsters, even today with all the publicity of the Senate hearings, isn't a good insurance risk."

But the letter that really threw down the gauntlet and is typical of many reads, "I am a rank and file member of the Teamsters and drive a municipal sanitation truck here in (a Pacific Coast city)."

"IF YOU WERE serious about this outrage and abuse by our Teamster president, Dave Beck, and others, tell me this: In the event that these men are found guilty of misappropriation union funds to their own use, could I, as a dues paying member of this union, be allowed to file suit against these men in a court of law to recover this money they took, which is rightfully mine?"

NEW YORK — Frank A. Daniels, general manager of the Raleigh (N.C.) News & Observer and Times and chairman of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. Postal Committee, criticizing a proposed postal rate increase for newspapers with over 5,000 press runs.

"Such classification plays into the hands of those who want government to classify the press by law for penalties or preferment. It is a threat to our free press."

Invests in Dad's Business

NEW YORK—I just had a talk with a wonderful teen-ager. I don't mean Sluggo—though he's o.k., too—but TV and movie actor Sal Mines, 18, who's investing part of his big loot in his father's business and helping build a new home.

"Dad still supports me," Sal said. "I'm a partner in a fairly safe business."

"The Universal Casket Co." explained Sal, who was having dinner in midtown, in a red sports shirt and a sports jacket. He told of the new house, "half in the Bronx and half in Pelham Manor."

"We're so crowded in the East Bronx. The dining room is my office. Three girls sort the fan mail. At night we have to clear the office out so we can eat."

"A LOT OF THE fans" Sal said, asked him to make records, a la Tab Hunter, so he just did a rock 'n' roller for Epic.

"I'm no singer," he confessed. "I hope they aren't expecting any Mario Lanza. But the teen-agers control the record business, so—"

He kisses a gal (Ruda Michelle) the first time on TV when he does "The Drummer Man" on Kraft Theater May 1, which'll make him all the more romantic.

Sal—who'll enter Adelphi College in Garden City in September, also going to the University of the City of Los Angeles when he's making movies — undertook to explain some slang to me.

"THEY MIGHT SAY you're wearing a hurlin' suit," he said. "Anybody ever say you had on a very sharp suit?"

"Not lately."

"They would say 'Don't touch it, it's so sharp, it cuts.' Then it got to be a hurlin' suit."

Sal's dad gave his three sons each a car at 18—and Sal's is a Thunderbird. Sal's noted for the red and blue socks he wore in a movie.

Everybody said it was real keen and real teen.

"It was a last-minute suggestion by the director, Nick Ray," Sal said. "He's not a teen-ager, either. He's about 42." You wonder how a man so up in years could have been so inventive, don't you now?

Sagebrush Diplomat Who Shocked Japs, Rocked Reds, Finds Quiet Here

By AL LE ANCE
Phillip Norton is a rangy, globe-trotting westerner whose "diplomatic" activities were once regarded as a major cause of acute indigestion in certain high circles of the Far East.

As one of Uncle Sam's public information representatives, Norton ranged from Seal Beach to Siberia, dispensing a kind of outspoken sagebrush diplomacy never covered in State Department manuals.

On various occasions, this adventuresome gent managed to stun the Japanese high command, initiate a Soviet-American industrial enterprise and walk off with $20 million worth of Imperial Russian gold.

NOW SETTLED down to the comparatively quiet life of a Palm Springs hotel proprietor and real estate vendor, Norton happily recalls how he almost provoked an international incident with the leaders of pre-Pearl Harbor Nippon.

Reaching an easy six-foot-six in his high-heeled boots, Norton was typically western, and a slightly awesome specimen of American when he attended a banquet prepared by Japan's civil and military brass.

He made headlines when, confronted by the prideful boasts of a nation then grasping for Asiatic domination, he quietly suggested that the Imperial command should "grow up" and stop acting like a bunch of school boys.

"THAT REALLY shocked them," Norton recalled, flipping through one of a half-dozen scrapbooks chronicling his international histrionics. "They all hopped up and started jabbering at once. I guess a few of them—those that are still alive—still remember it."

A few Soviet commissars, too, probably still remember the lanky young citizen who came to Siberia in 1919, drank them under the table, and left with $20 million worth of White Russian gold.

The gold was entrusted to Norton who was asked to set up a fund for purchase of equipment necessary to bolster a rapidly disintegrating government.

UNFORTUNATELY, the project sponsors met the firing squad before the fund could be utilized. Norton turned the gold over to the United States and, several years later, it was returned to the U.S.S.R. when that government was recognized as such by Washington.

On all his junkets abroad, including an episode where he embarked on an American-Soviet industrial project, which likewise ended when the planners were executed, Norton was accompanied by his wife, Lalita.

SHE GAVE UP a promising singing career to follow Norton through his days as a hard-writing Los Angeles newspaper reporter and as a young, imaginative real estate promoter.

In World War II, after serving as wartime government housing consultant west of the Mississippi, Norton electrified the real estate world by creating a Seal Beach housing project under the Title I plan.

This plan called for loans on home improvements, and "no one ever thought of using it to build homes" until Norton came up with well-appraised units costing only $3,000.

MANY YEARS BEFORE, Norton pioneered Palm Springs subdivision development with creation of Las Palmas estates.

He and his wife returned to Palm Springs in January, purchased the Casa Blanca Hotel and opened a real estate office.

For more than 10 years, he and his wife lived in an isolated cabin hidden in the far reaches of Wyoming.

"We only planned to stay three months," he recounted. "But we liked it so much we could never get up enough steam to leave."

NORTON WAS forced to leave last winter when he suffered a lung injury after being tossed by a horse.

"I rode that critter 30 miles that day," he drawled, "and when we stopped at the house he just exploded and off I went. First time he ever did that."

Norton confesses he sometimes misses his dog sled teams and the teeming animal life of an area so remote the nearest neighbor lived 15 miles away, and the mail was dropped by plane. BUT PALM SPRINGS is "great country too," Mr. and Mrs. Norton agree.

"All I want now is peace and quiet," he noted. "and I'm sure going to enjoy it here."

Lions See Movies of 1956 Indianapolis Auto Classic

Scout Jamboree Set for May 17-18

Themed to "Jamboree," Riverside County Scout Council will stage its annual Council Camporee, May 17-18, at Camp Emerson, Idyllwild. Scout officials announced today.

Elmer Burkholder of Riverside will chairman the event. An invitational affair, the Camporee is expected to draw into action nearly 80 Scout Patrols and some 500 Scouts and leaders from all sections of the county.

TO RECEIVE AN invitation to the Council Camporee, a Patrol must score an "A" rating in camping at a district camporee and have at least five days and nights camping since the first of the year.

Invitations and instructions will be sent to eligible Patrols within the next few days, Burkholder said. The Camporee program will be patterned after the National Jamboree. Patrols will be assigned specific camping areas and will be judged on camping ability, camp layout, camp theme and participation.

FEATURES WILL include charcoal cooking, gateways, swapping and a Jamboree campfire. Special demonstrations will also be given in survival and wildlife conservation.

As an added attraction, units from the local Council's contingent to the National Jamboree at Valley Forge next July will stage a Jamboree exhibit.

PRONOUNCING THE ROYAL Air Country Club home show for the Palm Springs Community Chest a success, Chairman Dewey Metzendorf announced that the exhibition would continue for one more week. Lovely and livable lines for gracious living that mark the Royal Air model is typified by the spacious living room shown above. Furnished by Robert Blanks, A.I.D. of Arthur Elrod Ltd., the model has 1,460 square feet of floor space. Developers of the project, which will boast 71 units on its 7-acre site when completed early in 1958, are three winter residents from Seattle—Meade Hargiss, Esther Peister and Harold Heathman. Heathman's son, Michael, is general manager and James Crowe is sales manager. Palm Springs' first taste of downtown country life, the Royal Air model is being exhibited daily from 1 to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fifty cents admission donations go to the Community Chest. The model is ideally located at the western end of Tahquitz Drive only a three minute walk from Palm Canyon Drive. (Gayle Studio Photo).

Major Log Jams in Biological Control of Insect Pests Appear Broken, Group Told

Some major log jams in biological control of California insect pests appear to be breaking up. Curtis P. Clausen, chairman of the statewide department of biological control, University of California, told agricultural commissioners meeting here today that expanded operations are now becoming possible against pests such as the spotted alfalfa aphid, caterpillars, red mite, various forest insects and the Egyptian clover weevil.

ADDRESSING the annual meeting of the State Association of County Agricultural Commissioners, Professor Clausen said imported parasites that attack the spotted alfalfa aphid have become established at many points in Southern California and the lower San Joaquin Valley and have increased rapidly.

"Our parasite distribution program has been greatly facilitated by the development of a truck-mounted suction sweeper," he declared. "Driven through fields containing good parasite populations, this machine collects millions of adult parasites and parasitized aphids per hour. This development has entirely eliminated the need for laborious insectary production of parasites. We expect to make large-scale releases in every infested locality in the state during the current year."

ANOTHER PHASE of biological control also seems on the threshold of expansion, he reported. This is the use of bacteria against caterpillar pests of citrus, avocado, cotton, corn and cabbage. "Bacillus thuringiensis has shown great promise against foliage-feeding caterpillars, he noted. "Progress with this organism was stalled, however, because of the absence of a commercial source of supply."

"FORTUNATELY, this log jam now seems to be broken. During the past year commercial mass production methods. Indications are costs will not exceed 50 cents a pound. This should permit its marketing and use at a cost no greater than that of standard chemical insecticides."

Insect viruses are known to be highly effective against many insects, Clausen added. But they can't be produced anywhere except in the living insect. Entomologists at the University's Citrus Experiment Station in Riverside are now starting to tackle the problem of tissue culture for growing the viruses.

A STEPPED-UP testing program at the station will focus on the problem of citrus red scale, Clausen told the commissioners. This involves the laboratory development of a strain of parasite more adaptable to hot summers and cold winters. Radiation is being used in an effort to produce a race of the red scale parasite that will be more effective under these conditions.

St. Theresa Mothers End Club Year

A May Day motif prevailed at Howard Manor Wednesday noon as St. Theresa Mothers Club wound up an active year at their installation luncheon. A be-ribboned maypole, with doll dancers decorated the head table and baskets of May flowers were on each luncheon table.

Mrs. Arnold Anderson, who is starting her second term in the presidency, conducted the meeting. Other officers installed were 1st vice president, Mrs. Earl Hough; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Robert White; treasurer, Mrs. Jack Riordan; secretary, Mrs. Cliff Campbell.

Mrs. Riordan, who has also served as treasurer this year, made a financial report of money that has been raised this year through the club's rummage sales, cake sales, and other activities, and which has been used for the school, the convent and the rectory.

Mrs. Tom Kieley, chairman of the uniform committee, reported on plans for a school uniform, saying the committee has decided on white T-shirts and gray denim trousers for the boys and jumpers with white blouses for the girls. Final decisions on the girls' uniforms will be made later, but were discussed briefly at the meeting.

Mrs. Elizabeth McIntyre was presented with a gift certificate, in absentia as she was busy conducting the current rummage sale. Mrs. Anderson was the recipient of a patio tea wagon, gift of the club, and a handsome flower lei, made by Mrs. Johnny Boyle.

Father Michael O'Donohoe thanked the club officers and members for their splendid cooperation and announced that St. Theresa's graduation exercises will be on June 3. Fifth Grade will have its outing on May 16, and the Eighth Grade's on May 27, with Play Day set for May 28. School will be out on June 6.

Following custom, outgoing officers were in charge of this final luncheon, with Mrs. Earl Hough and Mrs. Cliff Campbell as co-chairmen.

In closing the meeting, Ms. Anderson announced that the first meeting of the fall season will be on October 2.

Mrs. and Mr. Ralph Hancock and their two children Nancy and Brett left Tuesday for a month, on a combination business and pleasure trip to New York.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

May is such a marvellous month in Palm Springs . . . that we should make more of it . . . Nights and mornings are beautiful . . . and the warm, sunshiny days approach perfection . . . Those who are leaving should stop and think that no place else could possibly be as nice . . . and those who haven't been here yet this season . . . should make it a must in May . . . the oleanders are in bloom and the jacarandas linger on in all their lavender loveliness . . . gardens are beautiful and it's all a delightful setting for Village life . . . There's a relaxed tempo after the hectic winter months . . . for it's the merry month of May in Palm Springs . . .

There are so many beautiful spots . . . and life is so complex here . . . that it's difficult to register the Palm Springs entity on film . . . without a "Gone With the Wind" production . . . which I would like to see done someday. For a 15-minute production . . . designed for television and to be shown over 200 stations in the United States . . . the film "A Trip to Palm Springs" is exciting and wonderful . . . and should make a lot of people Palm Springs conscious . . .

Filmed here this winter for the Hertz Rent a Car company . . . the color and sound film had an invitational preview at a Wednesday night cocktail party at the Racquet Club . . . where Hertz Company officials presented it to the Chamber of Commerce . . .

In the first shots of the Village the cameras look down from the mountain slope above O'Donnell golf course . . . Busy Palm Canyon Drive filled with traffic . . . the thick cluster of buildings and palm trees . . . with the desert beyond . . . bring an instant feeling of pride in Palm Springs . . . There are shots of Western Week parade moving along Palm Canyon Drive . . . with movie stars, champion horses, flags and bands and pompon girls . . . There's the Desert Riders heading out for a chuckwagon breakfast on the desert . . . and you'll recognize the Phil Harris, Desi Arnaz and others on the golf course at Thunderbird . . . There's Charlie Farrell at the Racquet Club . . . and here and there, you'll see other familiar faces . . .

Of interest, too, are all the side trips to the canyons, to Salton Sea, the date gardens, Pioneertown, Joshua Tree . . . that are within easy driving distance of America's favorite desert resort.

Hosting the preview showing was J. J. Stedem, executive vice president of Hertz, assisted by Phil Roldan, city manager for the Palm Springs Hertz Company, and Ed McCoubrey . . . Here from San Francisco was E. C. Lischka . . . and other city managers included J. H. Burns of Los Angeles, W. O. Barr of San Bernardino . . .

Invited to the showing were Chamber of Commerce representatives, hotel owners, city officials and community leaders . . . around 60 altogether . . .

Lili St. Cyr is back at Chi Chi with an elaborate stage setting that moves the orchestra right off the stage and down into the audience to make room for the set . . . This one has an Oriental atmosphere and I thought it more colorful than the one she had last time she was here . . . Those who saw the act in Las Vegas say it's been toned down some for Palm Springs . . . but it's still guaranteed to raise a few eyebrows.

Lili is the headline act . . . but its Patty Moore and Ben Lessy

Dorothy and Dr. Samuel Salinger left yesterday . . . flying to Washington D.C. where he will attend sessions of the International Congress of ear, nose and throat specialists . . . Theda Bara's Jewels Go For a Song

CHICAGO — Many of the jewels owned by Theda Bara, billed as the "wickedest woman in the world" in the silent film era, were auctioned off in a business-like manner the other night to a small crowd of dealers.

Auctioneer Jay Freidman said only 150 persons showed up for the auction at the Chicago Art Gallery.

"Most of them were professional jewelry dealers," Freidman said. "There was a handful of curiosity seekers, but most of it was pure investment. There was little sentiment."

It was the second of a fournight auction session during which the $100,000 jewelry collection of film-dom's former femme fatale were to be disposed of.

She died in April, 1955, of cancer at the age of 64. The sale was being handled by Taylor Curtis, a California art consultant and friend of the beauty's husband, Charles Brabin.

Wednesday night's top bid was $9,250 for a platinum bracelet set in diamonds weighing 30 carats and six carats in emeralds. A platinum tiara sold for $1,400, and monogrammed gold lapel watch brought only $40 dollars.

An enormous blue drum held the many gifts presented to the honoree, and games were played with prizes being won by Mrs. George Gannon and Mrs. Hal Evans. Mrs. Gustave Patzner won the door prize.

Those enjoying the pleasant evening were Mrs. Oran H. Deal Jr. of Van Nuys, Mrs. Robert Brazy, Mrs. Hal Evans, Mrs. George Gannon, Mrs. Burton Herbsman, Mrs. Alfred H. Kazmier, Mrs. Culver Parker, Mrs. Gustave Patzner and Mrs. Robert W. Webb.

Collection Of Art Is Stamp Size

By BOB HAUGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
MUSKOGEE, Okla. — A Muskogee doctor's wife has a collection of art ranging from drawings of the ice age to works of such contemporaries as Picasso.

The collection is unique in that it is all on stamps.

Mrs. Lawrence S. McAlister started collecting stamps in 1949 at the suggestion of her husband. In slightly more than eight years, she has established herself as an authority in the field.

She is editor of the Fine Arts Philatelist, a world-wide bulletin dealing with the visual arts on stamps.

Mrs. McAlister said she found general stamp collecting impractical since stamps would be hard to file and the collection would, of necessity, be incomplete in specific categories.

Stamp Specialization

"I decided to collect by subjects and I chose music and medicine," she said. "My husband is a physician, and I had hoped to interest him in stamp collecting with the medical stamps, but this proved fruitless."

Mrs. McAlister concentrated on fine arts stamps, including painting, sculpture and architecture, reproduced on stamps.

Her interest in writing about her collection led her to edit the 14-page bi-monthly publication which has subscribers in countries from Australia to the Belgian Congo. Catalogues 25,000

Mrs. McAlister estimated she had catalogued upwards of 25,000 stamps.

Mrs. McAlister has built up a library of travel guide books, art books and magazines and a file of correspondence with other collectors.

"Getting the information on the story behind the stamp is often more interesting than getting the stamp," she said.

She advised anyone considering the hobby to start their collections "just for the fun of it."

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The men who cover sports get their biggest annual thrill Saturday.

They see them all in the course of the year. And, being perennial fans who seldom become jaded, they thrill to each of them.

But for most of them sitting high up in the press box it's the year's biggest crop of goose pimples when the field parades to the post Saturday for the Kentucky Derby.

This came through, loud and clear, at another horse race this spring. It was the Florida Derby at Gulfstream and as five colts who will be running again Saturday paraded to the post, Dean Eagle of the Louisville Times posed the question.

"What," he asked of a watching group of sportswriters, "is your greatest sports thrill of the year?"

Nobody answered for a few moments, each running back over the months crowded with touchdowns and home runs, brawny arms and flying feet.

"I have to put it high up," drawled Walter Stewart of the Memphis Commercial-Appeal finally, "when the man says 'Start your motors' and 33 cars thunder into the first turn at Indianapolis."

"You have to crowd the World Series up there somewhere," said Gene Ward of the New York Daily News.

"And how about a top championship fight?" asked Jack Powers of the Jersey Journal.

Then John Carmichael of the Chicago Daily News said it for all of them.

"I don't know about the rest of you," he allowed, "but I've got to give it to the Kentucky Derby."

YOU COULD TELL the way they nodded that this, for each of them, was at the head of the list.

Year in and year out when they move out from under the ancient stands at Churchill Downs and the band sends the tender strains of "Weep No More My Lady" into the soft air you've got to get a lump in your throat, a tear in your eye and a chill skating up and down your spine.

There are races which pay more money and some which actually are older. But this one has "it." Call it corn if you will but anybody who ever sat through it will tell you it's the tops.

Play it sweet and low, bandmaster. The field is ready to go to the post.

Gen. Duke Doubtful as Starter in 83rd Derby

Bold Ruler Takes Over As Favorite

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U.P.)—Wearing a special shoe on his bruised left front foot, Calumet Farm's Gen. Duke faced an early morning workout at Churchill Downs today that will determine if he is fit to race in Saturday's 83rd edition of the Kentucky Derby.

Nine other three-year-olds, including Gen. Duke's stablemate, Iron Liege, were entered Thursday for America's premier horse race, but the real drama was unfolding in barn 15 at the famed Downs.

Quartered there was "The Duke," who until last Tuesday was the heavy favorite for the Derby. However, he came back to the barn after finishing second in the Derby Trial with a sore foot, thereby turning Saturday's classic into a wide open race.

BEN JONES, the trainer emeritus of Calumet Farm who already has saddled six Derby winners, admitted he has been unable to locate the trouble spot. But he decided late Thursday to "take him on the racetrack and see if he can run."

However, even if Gen. Duke passes today's test, Jones indicated he may not decide definitely on whether to start the colt in the Derby until the absolute deadline—45 minutes before Derby post-time.

Cautious optimism was the keynote at the barns of the other trainers in comparison to the mantle of gloom hanging over the Calumet Farm "infirmary."

Jim Fitzsimmons had high hopes of winning the Kentucky Derby for the fourth time with Bold Ruler, now the favorite for the mile and one-quarter classic.

"AFTER HIS WORKOUT yesterday he is ready as hell ever be. We wanted him to stretch out his legs and he did fine," said the 52-year-old dean of American trainers.

Johnny Nerud, trainer of Ralph Lowe's Gallant Man who has gained so much local support he may wind up second choice, was highly pleased with the condition of the colt.

And so it went along shed row. The other trainers were convinced their horses were at their best and just as certain there was a tough horse race ahead of them.

BOLD RULER today took over the role of favoritism in tomorrow's running of the Kentucky Derby as Iron Duke remained a doubtful starter. Price on Bold Ruler was established as 8 to 5 today. He will be ridden by Jockey Eddie Arcaro, (International).

Ruiz Leads RCL Batters With .750

Trailing the two leaders by one game, Palm Springs Indians this afternoon were hosting Banning High in a Riverside County League baseball game.

The Braves have a 2-1 mark to date, losing Tuesday to the league-leading Coachella Arabs, 9-0.

Coachella goes to San Jacinto and should hold its unbeaten record. Hemet is at Perris and Beaumont hosts Elsinore.

Lennie Ruiz, Indian outfielder, who has played in two of their three league games, has connected safely three times in four official trips to the plate to lead the RCL with an amazing .750. Stan Cirata with four blows in nine times up has a mark of .446.

In team batting the Indians are down in fifth spot with 28 safeties in 78 at bats for a .280 mark.

Standing of the teams as of this morning:

Roberts Still Going Strong On the Mound

By FRED DOWN

United Press Sports Writer

It's plain today those obituaries of Robin Robert's demise as a star pitcher were somewhat premature.

Three straight losses this year on top of last season's 20-30 19-18 record had the experts counting Robin "out," but the burly Philadelphia Phillies' right hander proved Thursday night he's still "got it" with a 4-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs in which he allowed only three hits and struck out 13. The strikeout total was the highest of Robin's personal career and established a major league high for the current campaign.

The Milwaukee Braves took a two-game hold on first place with an 8-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, the St. Louis Cardinals scored a 3-2 win over the Brooklyn Dodgers in a four-hour and 45-minute, 16-inning marathon and the Cincinnati Redlegs downed the New York Giants, 9-7, in the other National League games.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox made it 10 victories in 12 games with a 6-1 decision over the Washington Senators, the New York Yankees beat the Kansas City Athletics, 5-1, and the Detroit Tigers downed the Boston Red Sox, 7-5.

A 10th-inning error by Pittsburgh shortstop Gene Baker, obtained in the deal with the Cubs, set up a three-run rally that carried the Braves to their 11th win in 13 games.

Hank Aaron had five hits in six tries as Lew Burdette won his third game of the year with relief aid from Red Murff.

Robinson Wants Only One More

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Sugar Ray Robinson will hold his prized middle championship for only one more fight.

Robinson, who gained the crown for the fourth time Wednesday with a fifth round knockout of Gene Fullmer, made it definite today that he'll be a song and dance man on the Broadway stage "next winter."

"I'll defend the title against Carmen Basilio, if the terms are right," he said, "and if I win, that's my last fight. If I lose, of course, I'd want to try and get it back."

WALL AND LITTLER TOP FIELD AT FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, Tex. (U.P.)—Accompanying Art Wall and former amateur champ Gene Littler were setting the pace by one stroke today as the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament entered the second round, but they took contrasting methods to get their two-under-par 68s.

Wall, a Pococum Manor, Pa., pro who is perhaps the nation's top hole-in-one artist with 34 to his credit, was a picture of consistency as he clipped one stroke off each nine's par over the par 35-35-70 Colonial Country Club layout.

Littler, on the other hand, scrambled sometimes wildly as the Singing Hills, Calif., pro posted his 33-35-68 for Wall to shoot at among the late finishers.

Their closest challengers at 69 were Billy Maxwell, another former amateur title holder from Odessa, Texas, and Bob Rosburg, bespectacled San Francisco pro.

Six other players were only a stroke further back with par 70s: Harvie Ward, Ben Hogan, defending champ Mike Souchek, Arnold Palmer, Freddie Haas, and Dick Metz.

Card of 56 Wins Mixed Twosome Play at O'Donnell

Turning in a best ball card of 56, Terry Ellis and Harry DeVenney in mixed twosome play at O'Donnell Golf Club Thursday. Close behind with a 57 were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thomas and in third spot with 58s were Mrs. El Aischuler and Lew Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Callahan Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Chase Garfield.

Other scores were:
59—Mrs. Page Hubbell, Meade Hargis; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Panning;
60—Mrs. Martin Williams, Ralph Peterson; Wynne Hubbard, Sterling Hubbard;
61—Mrs. W. C. McBride, R. T. Lewis;
62—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bailey;
63—Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Fleet; Mrs. William Powell, Charles Farrell;
64—Mr. and Mrs. George Barrett; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morse;
65—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Townsend;
67—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kennison;
69—Mrs. Steve Royce, Dan Jones.

Machen Rated 3-1 Over Maxim Tonight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U.P.)—Young Eddie Machen, confident that what he did once he can do again, takes on aging Joey Maxim tonight in an effort to establish his claim to a shot at the world heavyweight title.

On car radios, KDES has almost (within a fraction of 1 per cent) as many listeners as the other two Palm Springs stations combined. With the exception of the Thunderbird and Tamarisk areas, this survey was conducted only in the areas reached by the signals of all three stations, not in the many areas receiving only the double power of KDES.

P-TA Refuses To Hear Wright Dismissal Case

The Palm Springs High School Parent-Teachers Association executive board yesterday refused to hear the dismissal case of John Wright, high school mathematics teacher.

Mrs. John Gallorani, P-TA president, told Wright "The Parent-Teachers Association never interferes with the administration policies of a school district."

WRIGHT, WHO claims that "minority student pressures" resulted in the termination of his contract by the school board last week, had asked to appear before the P-TA.

However, Mrs. Gallorani said, the executive board felt that it was not part of the P-TA role to interfere in district policies. The decision was seconded by Mrs. Cy Hodges, president of the Caballero School P-TA.

"It is our policy to back the school board and Dr. Muelder (Schools Supt. Wallace Muelder) in all their actions," Mrs. Gallorani said she told Wright.

WRIGHT, WHOSE discharge was recommended by Muelder on alleged complaints of "incompetency and personality deficiencies," plans to carry his appeal directly to the board.

Meanwhile, hundreds of high school students have signed petitions asking the Board of Education to reinstate the mathematics instructor.
